Muteki 6.2 canales

Connecting the GVT to this part, select the mode "VIDEO 2" on the Muteki, just by turning the first button. Ensure that one of the Muteki's SINGLE video outputs (through) is connected to the TV's "Video Input" (cable/game connector). The audio will be the Muteki playing, right? On the TV, switch from HDMI to 1/2/etc video. Whenever you use HDMI devices, switch the TV channel to the "HDMI channel", the same thing in MUTEKI, turning the 1st button! I hope I helped! XD Facebook Instagram Youtube 12x 208 reais with 18 cents R$208,18Free shipping depends on weight, price and shipping distance. I'm not bragging... Please try again. the correspondent where you connected the TV to MUTEKI with a simple video cable. BUT SHALL HAVE RESONATED, LANCATO OR ANOTHER NEW MUTEKI VERSION! The M7! Stunning + and + powerful, and the bass are even more powerful now! 1 A° Vc need to connect the corresponding input / output cables! If your ACEEITA HDMI TV and GVT receiver do not have "HDMI output à does not send HDMI signals" forget it! HDMI, it will only help you if it is all HDMI! From Blu-Ray Player/PlayStation/etc -> MUTEKI and MUTEKI -> TV (All on HDMI cables).If your GVT doesn't have HDMI, use only the "simple" RCA output (yellow, white and red);"It's not Sony's fault, with all brands it works like this. So use the simple video/audio link of GVT and connect to SONY MUTEKI.Connect the "VIDEO OUTPUT" OR "MONITOR" of your MUTEKI to your TV!Every time you go to watch GVT, change the "mode/channel" of the MUTEKI by turning the 1st big button (since the 2nd is the volume).Go to change "channels" until you reach the corresponding connection.For example, connecting the front of the Muteki to the VIDEO 2.
